VOLUME PRITARY—NUMBER THIRTY-

WAS ARTIST FOR NATIONAL LOG CONSTRUCTION CO.

Oliver Kemp, widely artist of outdoor life, shed at his apartment in Lansing Friday raight of a heart attack. He was 58 years old.

At one time Kemp was one of the most prolific artists in the country. His work adorned many of the nation's magazine covers He did his best work from 1907 to 1914. He also wrote a number of works on outdoor life.

Kemp was a veteran of the World War, a world traveler, and somewhat of a soldier of fortune. He was born in Delaware. There are no close relatives.

Major Kemp came to Grayling in March of 1933 to take charge of the art and publicity work for the National Log Construction Co. and continued to late in the fall, when he went to Lansing to open an art studio.

While here he made many friends. He was a delightful character and most interesting in conversation. For six years he studied art in Paris and other foreign art centers and had visited most of the great art galleries of the world. He leved the great out doors and to study the art of nature. We recall our visit with him to the Pines. Here he pointed out the mastery of nature's color schemes, and enthusiastic over some of the color combination on the trees. The most of his paintings were woods and lumbering scenes, and some of his paintings adorn walk of art galleries and of personal friends. A fine one hangs in the entrance to the Post Tavern hotel, Battle Creek. A front cover painting for the Michigan Sportsman magazine last fall brot him much praise. He made oil paintings of many well known Americans, among them being one of President Theodore Roosevelt.

We visited him frequently his Lansing studio and we shall miss him greatly while in the Capitol city. Friends in Lansing are endeavoring to make ar-rangements for his burial in Arlington National cemetery.

The hay and forege grops from the summer's harvest were stored in the barn, together with farm machinery, harmen and farming implements. All were lost.

The origin of the fire is unknown, except that it is surmised that it may have been caused by spontaneous combustion, due from the presence of new-mown hay m which there was some amount moisture. Hay in such condition has been known to ignite and burst into flame. 🥕

There was no insurance on the barn nor contents and the loss is a very serious one. Mr. Bigham and his family have the sympathy of their friends in their misfor- Natural Layout For

VISITS OLD HOME TOWN

Avalanche

Major and Mrs. Hardin Sweeney of Omaha, Neb., spent several days in Grayling calling on old friends of Hardin and visiting local places of interest. Hardin is a graduate of Grayling school and at one time was an apprentice

We have followed his career with interest ever since he left here in 1915. After leaving Grayling he entered a commercial art school near Chicago but was unable to keep up his studies because of limited financial resources. From there he went to Chicago and enlisted as a private in Uncle Sam's regular army. He was first stationed in the state of Washington.

By his enterprise he fitted himself for promotion in the army. He was an unusually intelligent student and was soon commissioned a second lieutenant. This was a step and he soon was advanced to 1st lieutenancy. When the war broke out he was commissioned captain and served his country in the World war in that capacity, being engaged in five major combats. For several years he has held the rank of major. As present he is stationed in Omaha where he is teaching in Creighton University as professor of military science and technique.

Hardin is an excellent soldier and by his spiendid personality and enterprise has been able to fine position he now holds. Mrs. Sweeney is a very delightful young lady and made a ot of good friends in their visit here, and it was a pleasure to have had them "home."

Changes Made At Mercy Hospital

There has been a number of changes made in the personnel at Grayling Mercy Hospital, Sister M. Stella, who has been superintendent for the past two years and has been at the hospital here for a long number of years has been transferred to Cadillac, where she will be supervisor of surgery and anesthetics at the Hospital there. Grayling is extremely sorry to lose Sister M. Stella and trust her stay at Cadillac will not be for long but that she will be returned here soon. She is very proficient in her work and loved by everyone who knows her. Sister M. Monica of Hammond. Indiana, is the new super intendent; Sister M. Agatha of Grand Rapids is procurator; Sister Mary Ambrose of Manistee is the second floor supervisor; ter Mary Hildegaarde, Grand Rapids is Labatorium operation supervisor; Sister M. Beatrice is night supervisor; Sister Mary Agnes of Grand Rapids is here in an effort to restore her health and may stay.

We welcome the new Sisters to Mercy Hospital and trust they will like Grayling.

TO SHOW CARNIVAL MOVIES

Movies taken on the trip are in the process of development. They will be shown in Grayling in one or two weeks. Following the showing the Tourist Association will present a proposal of interest to Grayling guides. It is a log of the entire trip from this city to Lake Huron. Many tourists would make the trip but shy from it because they are not familiar with the extremely low cost of transportation, meals, lodging.

The proposed folder would inchide a complete illustrated map of the journey, giving distances, points of interest and other pertinent information. The reverse side will bear a brief literary sketch of the river with a listing of Grayling guides and their rates. Out of such a plan might easily grow some sort of Guides Association, from which there would be a direct benefit to men who rely in part or wholly trips down the river for an exist-

WHEN we stop to realize how Ben Carpenter has gone to bat for our people so many times in the past, it is hard to understand how anyone who knows the facts can think of doing anything else but vote for him in the primary election on September 11th. This is no time to forget the favors bestowed upon us in a time need. There is no finer principle than that of friendship, from it spring the golden fruits of gratitude. Gratitude is a principle that we all should cultivate, and when the time comes that we can give it expression, we should be only too glad to do so. It is our opinion that the 28th senatorial district hasn't been so well represented in the state senate as it is with Mr. Carpenter there representing us. Mr. Carpenter is a plain, earnest citizen, but as an stead of simply strolling from his official he seems to anticipate conditions ahead of most men in the senate and knows what is going on at all times. When we have the best senator from our district since the days of Eugene Foster of Gladwin, 20 years ago, let's to brass tacks and decide to be done with him.

H. C. McKinley of Gaylord, onetime editor and owner of the Gaylord Herald, was a caller at this office recently, while in town to whether it has a merit of truth see the carnival parade. H. C. is or not, especially when it has a still young in spirit in spite of touch of sensation about it, travhis 88 years. Mr. McKinley is in remarkably good health, his eyesight and hearing are excellent for one of his years, and his memory and clear thinking is astonishing. He is as active as one half along. his age, and is still the clean minded, intelligent and interesting man that he was the first time we met him, 23 years ago. Mac has a personal charm about him that make people love him. and want to see him often. May there be many more years of happiness in store for him before he leaves us with only rich memories of his splendid personality.

WHO PAYS the heavy gas tax? Is it the man with the family car who does a little driving around occasionally goes to some neighboring city, or is it the tourists, the truck lines and others who take long auto trips about the state and country? That is easy to answer. We people who use a car comparatively little, pay but little gas tax. If the state tax is reduced from 3 cents a gallon to 2 cents, it would hardly be When we stop to consider the amount of money coming back into Crawford county from the gas tax we will find that the people staying here at home pay but a small portion of that which comes back to us. This goes into building and maintaining hghways friends, and the custom is grow-here at home. It builds better ing each year. There will be highways over which we have no gas tax at this time is good ness especially for our home-people. These who take long same trips and use large quantities of gas can well afford to pay the extra tax. And it may be well to upon our highways that purchase gas and thus contribute to the cost of our own state and county high-ways. We will be asked to vote on an amendment in the November election for a reduction of the tax on gas. Michigan's fine highways attract many tourists here who do not object to the payment of a 8 cent gas tax, so why should we? It seems like real economy to vote NO on that ques-

THE RAILROADS do not like th retirement act and would be glad to have its validity tested in court. Under the terms of the act, common carriers and employees contribute to a fund for the support of workers when old age comes upon them. Pensioning worn-out employees is not new as a suggestion, but that plan is new as a practical and operative matter. There was a time when the village blacksmith or cooper, sustained by an apprentice or two could continue his working days well beyond the allotted three score and ten. Business was local owned by the small-scale proprie tor, and he could labor into old age if he saw fit to do so. Now it is centralized and the old timer who wishes work must walk hat in hand from plant to plant, inhouse to his own shop. The gravhaired worker has gone pretty much into the discard, but he can not be knocked in the head. Perhaps the railroad officials and everyone else had better get down

FALSE RUMORS

Any rumor that may arise, els rapidly and at times causes anxiety and heartbreaks. It is only natural that people who hear such reports are quick to pass it A recent rumor of an auto wreck in which it was reported that one of our well known citizens was killed, proved to be entirely without foundation. And the truth was found out not be fore it had caused a lot of anguish in the family of the reported victim. Whether this rumor was started as a joke or not, it was a serious affair. Extreme caution should be given to any reports of a serious nature until every evidence has been secured as to its authenticity. At times serious consequences develop in such cases and too much care canno be given before any such reports are given out.

The sires, they were busy. If enough to see, Jenny and Mr. Wren began to feed those siways hongry bables, and with hardly time for occasional mouthful themselves they kept at it until the Black Shadow came out from the Purple Hills. Wren bables, like all other bird bables, grow very fast and this means that each one of them must have a great deal of food every day. A Wren baby often eats its own weight in food in a day, and all this food has to be hunted for and carried back and put into the gaping little mouths.

With seven such gaping little mouths you can imagine how busy the Wrens were. Hardly would Jenny disappear in the little round pillar in her bill than she would pop out again and Mr. Wren would take her place with a spider os a fly. Then both would hurry away for something more.

number of times they came and went but soon gave it up as a bad job. He began to wonder where all the worms and bugs and spiders came from and gradually he came to have a great deal of respect for eyes sharp enough to find them so quickly. He began, too, to under stand how useful Jenny and Mr. Wren were, for he knew of the worms and caterpillars and bugs with which they fed their bables were very harmful to plants

Needless to say, Jenny was shorter tempered than ever. She had no time to gossip and said so most emphatically. Nor did Mr. Wren have time to sing. Of course they had to rest once in a while, but it was never for a very long time. Whenever she did stop to rest, Jenny looked worried. She had the care of that big family on her mind every minute.

So at last l'eter gave up the idea of trying to find out from her cortain things he wanted to know and hopped off to look for some one was less busy. He had but a short distance when his attention was caught by a song so sweet and so full of little trills that he first stopped to listen and then hurried to look for the singer.
